WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1866.

A BLAZE OF GLORY.

Yesterday was the proudest day in the history of Pittsburgh. The Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention is altogether unmatched by any similar demonstration on this continent. Even on Saturday large delegations began to arrive. On Monday the concentrating streams were enlarged. Yesterday the tide of delegations overflowed and deluged the city. So many names made historic by valorous deeds have not been drawn together since the final and formal review of the Union armies at Washington upon the close of the war. Thousands and tens of thousands of scarred and maimed veterans are here, bringing legends from all the famous battle fields on which patriots perished that the nation might live. Their purpose cannot be mistaken. It beams from their countenances; it flashes from their eyes; it is apparent in their tread; their voices give it utterance. Having saved the Union, they do not mean the just fruits of victory shall be wrenched from their hands by the treachery of the President or the cajolery of his new-found friends.

What a welcome these men have received! Never before was there so profuse a flaunting of banners, and flags, and mottoes, and devises. Our people were glad to receive the heroes, and gave expression to their delight with their whole hearts.

But—the Procession, last night—what shall we say of it? It surpasses description. Almost every building was adorned and illuminated. A deluge of men and women filled the streets, surging and swaying like the waves of the ocean. Over all rose and fell the majestic swells of martial music, mingling with the multitudinous voices of the people.

This grand display leads to one result, which is, that the people who own this government—by whose toils and sacrifices it was preserved—do not mean to surrender it at the dictation of the President. What they did once, they can do again. Wo be to those who shall cause them, in a last extremity, to try the issue of arms. Such an appeal is most improbable. This sublime demonstration, attesting the popular will, can not fail of being respected, both by men in power and out of power.

DARK and sombre, on Fifth street, last evening, stood two buildings—the Post-office and the office of the Post. The Government of the United States had no sign of welcome for its defenders. The organ of the Democracy shrouded itself in congenial darkness. This fraternization in gloom is significant and suggestive. Do the conservatives wonder that the loyal masses are indignant?

FIRST DAY OF THE GREAT CONVENTION.

Grand Uprising of the Citizens.

THE CITY IN BLOSSOM WITH FLAGS.

Tremendous Demonstration Last Evening.

Yesterday was a day ever to be remembered by our citizens. It was one well worthy to be handed down to posterity as second only to the fourth of July, 1776. Then the patriots of the revolution declared to mankind the independence of a weak and feeble nation; yesterday their sons met to declare to the world the perpetuation of that independence and of the union established by their wisdom. Such a Convention occurs seldom in the life of a nation. It has never before happened to ours. The men composing it are those who faced the fire of a treacherous enemy, upon sea and land; men who sacrificed all that their country might live. Brave to a fault, courageous to an extreme, merciful, faithful and patriotic, they are the living exponents of the true principles of universal liberty.

THEY HAVE BEEN WELCOMED

In a manner which does credit to the patriotism of our citizens. Never, since the remote day of our municipal creation, has Pittsburgh experienced such glowing enthusiasm—such intense patriotism and excitement. Every man, woman and child seems to breathe the air of patriotism and each vies with the other to do honor at the shrine of the brave men who have deep and lasting claims upon the gratitude of the nation. The convention assembling in Pittsburgh is but a mete and fitting recognition of the character won by her citizens during the continuance of the war. No city in the Union was more zealous during the dark hours of the rebellion than ours. Our sons fought bravely upon all the blood-stained fields of the rebellion; our treasure was willingly expended; our homes were thrown open to the volunteers who passed through the city during the war, and everything which a free and enlightened christian people could do was done to further the cause of our country and lighten the hardships of its soldiers. No other city in the Union could have extended such a hearty welcome—a welcome coming from the hearts of the people pure, gushing and free from policy. The brave Boys in Blue, will carry with them a golden opinion of our people, and feel after this Convention that we are not tardy in recognizing their imperishable claims upon our hospitality, admiration and gratitude.

IN THE MORNING.

City Hall was crowded at an early hour with a heterogeneous mass of men and women—delegates and "laymen"—who filled every seat, occupied the entire standing room, and even piled themselves on top of the reporters' table, while the platform was no place of refuge for those who sought solitude. According to the programme the delegations from the different States were to be formally received at nine o'clock in the morning, after which a temporary organization was to have been effected. This part of the programme, however, was changed at a joint meeting of the National Executive and Resident Committees held at City Hall, Monday evening. According to the resolution adopted at that meeting the State delegations were requested to meet separately and elect representatives to the serve on a committee to make nominations for temporary and permanent organizations, to appoint two Vice Presidents, and to designate two members to serve on the Committee on Resolutions. This arrangement was made at so late an hour that it was impossible to give it such publicity as was desirable, and not a few who repaired to City Hall yesterday morning were disappointed.

About half past nine o'clock General A. L. Pearson appeared upon the platform, and stated that by request of a large number of persons in the audience Col. Ed. Jay Allen, formerly of the 155th Pennsylvania Volunteers, would read an original poem, entitled "The Veteran." This announcement was received with great applause, and when Colonel Allen was introduced he was greeted with cheers.

After the applause had subsided, Col. Allen read the following poem:

THE VETERANS.

Nay, step aside and give him space,
Whose stained and threadbare suit of blue,
And halting gait, and thin worn face,
Tells of the Veteran tried and true;
And heed not, though with vacant air,
He gives no way amid the crowd,
But presses on with absent air,
Half uttering his thoughts aloud.

For the crowded street has gone from his sight,
And the ring of his heel is the sentry's tread.
The grim old walls in the noon-day light
Have faded away, and over his head
Is the Southern sky; and sharp and clear
The challenge rings out, Halt! who goes there?
And the bayonet gleams as he paces his round
With the enemy encamped on the hills beyond.

And the wild hurrah he hears again,
Where the tattered flag leads the onward way,
And the "minies" scream like the whistling rain.
But the trenches are ours—and the lines of gray
Are surging back as our flag sweeps on.
O the patriot fire, and the might of his hand,
As he strikes for the victory almost won
And hears the joy-bells ring through the land.

O, the glory of home, sweet eyes that shine
With the glow of love, when the dear name is seen
On the battle page. O, the faith divine
That believed and knew when the world did dream
That no Bayard of old bore a heart more pure,
Or courage more true. Though day by day
He only showed the strength to endure,
And calmly plodded along his way.

No grief to-day for the shrunken limb,
No sigh for the empty sleeve at his side,
No regret for the past, though his eye grows dim
And the light fades out of the battle pride,
Remembering, as our lives sweep on,
How gallant hearts went down to the dead,
And he heaves a sigh for his comrades gone,
And walks along with a reverent head.

Stretch out long street in narrowing line,
Flow numerous tides of busy feet,
Beat hammer with a constant chime,
O, river surge the wheel to greet,
Smile reaper on thy sylvan home
And harvest with a certain hand,
The strife is o'er, the victory won,
And gentle peace is in the land.
O, veteran, in whose gleaming eyes
The glory of the past doth shine,
In coming years a grander prize,
A nation's reverence shall be thine;
And burning words shall tell the world
Thy noble deeds, who, 'gainst the wrong,
The flag of freedom first unfurled,
And suffering, made the nation strong.

And glistening eyes shall throb with tears
At names that, stamped on history's page,
Shall, aye, go ringing down the years,
The heroes of this patriot age;
Like martial music, sweet and strong,
Thy name, with theirs, shall ever be Borne onward by the tides of song,
And crowned by immortality.

EDWARD JAY ALLEN,
Late Colonel 155th Pennsylvania Volunteers.

After Colonel Allen had concluded, the West Virginia delegation, numbering about sixty, marched into the Hall, and was most cordially welcomed. Heading the delegation were veterans bearing the colors of the First, Second, Seventh and Twelfth Regiments of West Virginia Infantry, together with the tattered and battle-worn flags borne by those regiments through many fiercely contested battles. The effect was exceedingly thrilling, and when the flags were placed on the platform the audience gave utterance to shouts of applause. Among the prominent members of the delegation we notice General J. H. Duvall, the hero of Cedar Mountain, Col. Curtis, of the Twelfth Regiment; Lt. Col. Hubbard, First Regiment; Major Singleton, Quartermaster; Lieut. Colonel Brown, Major Burleigh, Lieut. Briggs and Captain Stevenson, of the Twelfth Regiment; Lieut. J. A. Lewis and C. B. Freeman, of the First Regiment; Assistant Surgeon Patton, Lieut. H. Kuhn, of the First Regiment, and Surgeon John English, of the Second Regiment. A choir, composed of over two hundred young ladies and gentlemen were assigned a position in the gallery, at the rear end of the hall, and during the morning sang a number of patriotic airs in an admirable manner.

General A. L. Pearson announced that the Lawrence county delegation would arrive in Allegheny at 9:40, six hundred strong, an announcement that was received with tremendous applause.

On the platform were seated the following named veterans of the war of 1812: John Ganley, aged 80; Captain Jacob Campbell, 76; John Taylor, 77; Luke Loomis, 78; Michael S. Jones, 75; Fred. H. Hissky, 75; George Moore, 84; Spencer Lucas, 79; Joseph Henderson, 69; Levi B. Cooper, 67.

ORGANIZING.

At twelve o'clock, Maj. Gen. Jas. S. Negley, Chairman of the Resident Committee of Pittsburgh, announced that the hour of organizing the Convention had arrived, and therefore requested that those who were not delegates to the Convention would leave the Hall. The crowd then began moving slowly out of the room but so very slowly that much time was occupied by the movement. As the Hall became partially cleared, General Negley announced that the names of the states would be called, and requested the chairman of each [illegible] respond as the name was called, and to announce what portion of the Hall they would occupy.

At this moment the 5th Wisconsin entered the Hall, "Old Abe," the gallant old bald-headed eagle that went through all their campaigns, being borne on a shield to the entrance. As this feathered hero and [illegible] entered, the entire assembly rose to [illegible] them with a tremendous [illegible] approached the stand, Gen. Cochran proposed three cheers for Old Abe, which were given with a hearty will, accompanied by the waving of handkerchiefs, hats and flags. The honored guest was escorted to a place of honor on the stage, where, as he took his position, he was again cheered lustily. The noble bird seemed to appreciate the reception accorded him, and flapped his wings and lifted his head in proud acknowledgement.

The calling of the names of States was then proceeded with, and the delegations took seats as indicated. It was announced that Gen. J. D. Cox, of Ohio, at the head of a delegation of five hundred soldiers, was at the door and could not find a position in the Hall. Gen. Negley said the Ohio soldiers would have to do as they did in the field—take position—which advice was promptly taken amid much applause. Gen. Granville Moody moved three cheers for Gen. J. D. Cox, Governor of Ohio—Ohio the State that was good for forty thousand majority this fall. The cheers were given with a hearty will.

The choir, at the request of the chairman, sang Old Hundred, after which the Ohio delegation gave three hearty cheers for the loyal men of Pennsylvania.

At this moment Generals Butler and Devins, of Massachusetts, entered the Hall together. The assembly arose in a mass and received the two with thunders of cheers, and for some minutes the utmost excitement prevailed, during which the two gentlemen ascended the platform. The applause continued after they had become seated, and General Butler was called on so persistently that he was forced to come to the front of the platform and bow to the assembly. He was loudly called upon for a speech, but declined to speak. Three cheers were proposed and given for the ladies of Pittsburgh.

The chairman of the Illinois delegation arose and announced that Illinois sent greetings to the loyal men of Pennsylvania, and pledged the State for sixty thousand majority for General John A. Logan, as Congressman at large from that State. This announcement was received with the most enthusiastic cheers.

Brig. General H. A. Barnum, of New York, was introduced by Major General James S. Negley, as the chairman of the Committee on Temporary Organization. General Barnum, before delivering the report of the Committee, said that, as the Convention had met to deliberate over great and momentous issues, and to decide what should be done with the victories gained in the field, it was eminently fitting that they should appeal to Divine Providence for strength and guidance. He would therefore call upon Chaplain Granville Moody, to invoke the blessing of the Almighty upon their deliberations. The audience arose and Chaplain Moody delivered the following prayer:

PRAYER OF REV. GRANVILLE MOODY, D. D.

Dr. Moody said to the immense audience Let us arise and unite in prayer. Reverently they stood while the Chaplain presided, and supplicated the Throne of Grace in the following prayer:

Our Father who art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name, Thy Kingdom come; Thy will be done, on earth as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from all evil, for Thine is the kingdom, the power and glory, for ever.

Our Heavenly Father, we bless Thee for this broad and glorious land, which we by Thy Providence are permitted to call our own. We bless Thee for our honored ancestry; we thank Thee that Thou didst sift the nations of the old world to procure the seed with which to sow broad our [illegible] heritage of freedom. We bless Thee that Thou didst direct to these shores the chosen few who [illegible] God, [illegible] and [illegible], permanent, [illegible] that is distinguishing and glorious in civil and political institutions, which make up the envy or the admiration of the world. We bless Thee that Thou didst inspire our fathers [illegible] with the wisdom, patriotism and heroism to declare their rights and pledge their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor, to the maintenance of the God-given [illegible] life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and that for the maintenance of these [illegible] governments amongst men are formed, and that Thou hast enabled them to form a government so wise, so comprehensive, so benignant, so efficient, that it stands the wonder of the world, and as we trust, to the glory of Thy great name. We bless Thee for the successes of our country in all the past, that in every dark period Thou hast placed the star of hope on the brow of our firmament, and especially, that during the past four years of terrible trial, through which our institutions have passed to triumph, as we believe, [illegible] Thou wast with Thy people in [illegible] in Providential interference. And we [illegible] Thou wast with our soldiery, [illegible] disloyal States of the glorious Republic. And we rejoice that Thou wast with them, and that a spirit of patriotism of courage and of valor was granted that enabled them to plant the battle [illegible] on the ramparts of our [illegible]. We pray that [illegible] to vindicate the national integrity, and protect the national life, with the [illegible] rights of men, that Thou wouldst now [illegible] be a spirit of wisdom and counsel and of might.

Oh, God! we invoke Thy presence, we ask Thy blessing upon the counsels of this convention; may they be Divinely guided, Divinely owned and Divinely blessed. And may [illegible] institutions be dearer to us than ever, as they have cost so much of treasure and so much of priceless blood. And as a quarter of a million of graves in our land have attested and still attest the valor and patriotism of our citizen soldiery, oh, God, may we be impressed with the consideration that every soldier's grave is a claim that we have upon this broad and glorious land; and that, from where our green mountain [illegible] blend with the sky, and the giant St. Lawrence is rolled to the waves, where the fabled Hesperides [illegible] like a dream of some prophet of old, Thou hast enabled us to battle, and conquer, and possess this glorious land, and to spread its rainbow banner to the breeze, a sign that storms shall cease, and that the flag, with its thirty-six stars, shall continue to wave, and all this by the blessing of God, by the agency of the Union party, by the prowess of the boys in blue of the land. Glory to God, that we meet under such favorable circumstances. That "the war drum throbs no longer and the battle flags are furled," and that we have met to conserve the great interests secured on the battle fields where the national life was preserved and our glory won.

Oh God! be Thou a spirit of wisdom, a spirit of judgment, a spirit of power, the spirit of a sound mind, a spirit of triumphant patriotism to this Convention of loyal men. And may it be seen in heaven, in earth and hell, north and south of Mason and Dixon's Line, and throughout the world, and there is "no enchantment against Jacob, and no divination against Isaac." May the Cleveland and Philadelphia combinations prove all in vain, and may the patriotism which has secured our interests on the battle field be equal to the great needs of securing our institutions from the wild schemes of ambitious demagogues, who would elevate bloody-handed, unrepentant rebels to power, and sacrifice all we have gained by blood and treasure. Lord, preserve us from the great catastrophe. Leave us not in the hands of disloyal men, and as Thou has been with our fathers, be with us, and lead us out to a bright and glorious future, and may succeeding generations rise up and call us honored and blessed, and thereby bring an increasing revenue of glory to Thee, as "Governor amongst the nations," the Friend of liberty and man. All we ask is in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, for whom we thank Thee, and to whom, with the Father and the Holy Spirit, be equal and endless praises. Amen.

At the conclusion of Chaplain Moody's prayer, General Barnum requested that the choir would sing the Star Spangled Banner. The piece was sung with magnificent effect, the audience, arising en masse and joining in the chorus. After the applause which greeted this air had subsided, General Barnum read the call under which the Convention was assembled.

General Barnum then read a letter from a prominent officer of the Treasury Department, introducing Private L. Edwin Dudley, of the Thirteenth Massachusetts, a clerk of the Department, to the Chairman of the Resident Committee. The letter was as follows:

TREASURY DEP'T, OFFICE OF INT. REVENUE,
WASHINGTON, Sept. 22, 1866.

Dear General—The bearer of this, L. Edwin Dudley, for his activity in relation to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention, like John Rogers, in the reign of Queen Mary, is the first martyr in our Department. I need not detail the embarrassment his application for two days' leave of absence occasioned to the Department, but the result is that he must either forego the Convention or his position.

Mr. Dudley has been in our Department, and is a faithful, intelligent and useful public servant.

(The name of the writer of this is suppressed, lest it inconvenience him at Bread and Butter Headquarters.

General Barnum then read the following letter from Private Dudley, resigning his position in the Department:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24, 1866.

Sir—Having been refused leave of absence which I asked to enable me to attend a national convention of soldiers and sailors, to be held at Pittsburgh, September 25th, 1866, I hereby tender my resignation of my clerkship in this office.

I desire to remark in this connection, that the time for which I applied was but two days, with permission to use three days due me upon a former leave, from which I returned before its expiration.

I feel no hesitation in taking this action, for I deem it a pleasure and an honor to make any sacrifice for the principles which I believe are right, and upon the vindication of which I believe the safety of the republic depends. I feel that to desert the Union party, which sustained the country in her hour of peril, would place me in the same light it would to have deserted the Union army and joined that of the rebels, and a contingency not to be entertained until I have lost my recollection of the few sacrifices which I was permitted to make while serving my country as a soldier.

I should feel that I had proved recreant to my comrades who lie buried where they fell, or were inhumanly starved by those fiends in human shape, to whom it is now proposed to give the right to make and administer laws for the Union men.

I shall attend the Pittsburgh Convention because I believe that by so doing I can do some little towards securing the final triumph of those principles for which so many of my comrades have died, and which we had a right to expect, had been secured by our terrible sacrifices.

Hoping that you may accept my resignation,
I am, very respectfully,
your obedient servant,
L. EDWIN DUDLEY.

HON. HUGH M'CULLOUGH, Sec'y Treasury.

The reading of this letter was received with tremendous applause, followed by three rousing cheers for Private Dudley.

General Barnum then announced that the author of that letter had been chosen by the Committee to serve as chairman of the temporary organization. This announcement was received with renewed and tremendous applause.

The chairman stated that the taking of the [illegible] of the report was [illegible] and he would suggest [illegible] in favor of the election of Private Dudley, rise in their seats and give three hearty cheers.

The cheers were given amid a perfect whirlwind of enthusiasm.

Private E. A. Hardy of Maine, and General J. F. Farnsworth, of Illinois, were appointed to escort the chairman to the chair. While the escort were making their way to where the chairman was standing, it was announced that a telegram had been received for a delegate, and he would please step forward to receive it.

A delegate said he hoped no telegrams had been received from Forrest or Morgan.

The chairman was escorted to the stand amid the wildest cheers, several ladies who occupied the balcony over the stage, showering a great quantity of bouquets upon him. After the confusion had somewhat subsided, the chairman spoke as follows:

ADDRESS OF THE TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN.

Soldiers' and Sailors' of the Republic: This honor is quite unexpected to me and also I believe, quite undeserved. I know that it would be proper on this occasion to make some remarks, but as I have contracted a severe cold which will prevent me from being heard, I shall say but a few words.

I am glad to see you here; I am glad to know that the soldiers of the Republic are true to the principles that carried them to the field. I heard it asserted less than a month ago that the soldier of the country were with the policy of Mr. Johnson. I beg leave to differ from that and I used my efforts to secure an expression of opinion from the soldiers of the republic, and I believe that we shall get it here in Pittsburgh that will sweep over the country in thunder tones, and which, I believe, will help to swell the majorities for the Union cause in all the Northern States [illegible]

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At three o'clock the Hall was as densely packed as during the morning session. While the delegates were taking their seats the Western Band played several patriotic airs.

[illegible]

SPEECH OF GEN. JOHN COCHRAN.

General John Cochran, of New York, in introducing to the Convention the report of the committee on [illegible] Organization, spoke as follows:

Mr. President, and Gentlemen of the Convention—[illegible]

[illegible] towards the West—the commanding West—the predominating West—the West that is known to this Government, we ask where is that hero of whom the country has heard, [illegible] John A. Logan! (Tremendous cheers.) [illegible]

[illegible] Jacob D. Cox [illegible] Committee on Permanent Organization. Mr. President, [illegible] permanent President, Major General Jacob D. Cox, of Ohio. (Cheers.)

The announcement of General Cox's name was received with another tremendous outburst of applause, and [illegible] the nomination was ratified with [illegible] unanimity, and three cheers for the distinguished officer were called for and given with a hearty will.

The chairman appointed General Hamlin of Maine, and Adjutant General T. J. Anderson, of Kansas, a committee to escort the President to the chair, and conducted him to the platform amid more and still louder cheers.

As the applause subsided, Private Dudley, the temporary chairman, introduced General Cox as the presiding officer, who [illegible] administer the affairs of the Convention.

After the tremendous cheering with which he was received had ceased, General Cox acknowledged the honor done him in the following remarks:

SPEECH OF GEN. COX, OF OHIO.

My fellow soldiers of the Convention—Ladies and Gentlemen: [illegible]

At the conclusion of General Cox's remarks, General Cochran continued the report of the committee. He announced that the list of Vice-Presidents would be announced by the first Secretary of the Committee, Major McMichael, of California, and that the list of Secretaries would be announced by the other Secretary, General Charles Hamlin, of Maine. Major McMichael then read the following list:

Vice Presidents—Maine, Brig. General Chas Hamlin, and Sergt. Hinton, Utah; Captain D. B. Stover, Washoe Territory; Private A. Mallinill.

General Cochran announced that not a man whose name had been read in the list of Vice Presidents, or whose names would be read in the list of Secretaries, was an absentee. Every one had answered to his name on the muster roll. The question as to the adoption of this portion of the report was put and carried unanimously.

General Hamlin then read the following list of permanent secretaries:

The report of the Committee was unanimously adopted.

General Hawkins moved the appointment of a committee of one from each delegation to report resolutions. The motion was adopted, and the calling of the roll for the names of the committee proceeded. The following were appointed:

General Hamlin, of Maine, moved that the Committee on Resolutions be instructed also to prepare an address for the Convention.

General Hawkins, of New York, objected. It would be a disadvantage to the Convention. All that was needed was a series of concise and decisive resolutions. (Applause.)

General Hamlin withdrew his motion amid cheers.

General Collis, of Philadelphia, then offered the following resolution, which was read amid the greatest enthusiasm and referred to the Committee on Resolutions:

WHEREAS, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, in a speech recently delivered in the city of Washington, declared that if he thought fit he might have used the army to make him Dictator; therefore

Resolved, That in that remark, he insulted every soldier and sailor of the Republic, and that the Soldiers and Sailors wish him to understand that he cannot use them to destroy the principles of free government upon which the fabric of American Liberty is based.

Captain Hinton, of the District of Columbia, as a commander of colored troops during the war, complimented the colored soldiers, and moved that delegates from colored organizations be admitted to the floor. This was referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

Gov. Fairchild, of Wisconsin, submitted a brief address, which was also referred to the Committee on Resolutions. The address complimented the colored soldiers highly, and urged equality for the colored citizens as a just reward due their sacrifices and labors in behalf of the Union, and was received with great applause.

A delegate moved that the Convention adjourn.

Gen. Hawkins hoped that the motion would be withdrawn until some provisions were made for a meeting of the Committee on Resolutions.

After some debate the Committee were informed that they would meet this morning at eight o'clock in the chamber of the Select Council in the City Building.

Several delegates asked permission to read communications from the various organizations of the Boys in Blue in the several States. As the hall was needed for other purposes last evening, the reading of these communications was postponed until this morning.

The motion to adjourn was renewed.

Gen. Jardine, of New Jersey, urged the withdrawal of the motion to adjourn until full instructions had been delivered to the different delegations as to the part they were to take in the torch light procession last evening. The motion was accordingly withdrawn.

Gen. Negley, in response to repeated calls, came forward, and was received with great cheering. He said: In behalf of the "Boys in Blue" of Allegheny county, we extend to you, our fellow soldiers, a cordial invitation to turn out with us, adding by your presence an additional interest to the pageant, and partake with us of the glory of the occasion. Three thousand of the Boys in Blue of Allegheny county would turn out, and would welcome their comrades from abroad. Every dwelling that contained a loyal man or woman would be resplendent with light beaming welcome to all. The General then proceeded to give instructions as to the time and place of meeting last evening, the time being, as stated, at "early candlelight," an announcement which caused much merriment.

The motion to adjourn was renewed, and the meeting adjourned to meet again this morning, at ten o'clock, in City Hall.

EVENING.

The bustle, enthusiasm and excitement that had been rampant all day, instead of subsiding with the decline of daylight, became even more intense toward evening, until at half-past six o'clock the enthusiasm was up to a fever heat.

To depict the scene on paper would be simply impossible. Here were delegations marshalling through the streets with banners, flags, transparencies and torches, making their way through a living mass of human beings, the capacious lungs of whom pealed out shout after shout of welcome and greeting to the delegations as they filed by on their way to the place of rendezvous. From the housetops and portals of almost every dwelling the national colors floated, while for whole squares the houses seemed to be one continued waving banner of our country. Fifth, Wood, Penn, Smithfield, Liberty and St. Clair streets, with those streets in their immediate vicinity, was one continued blaze of light the fronts of the buildings, having the appearance of brilliant hued walls of variegated fire, the predominating colors being red, white and blue. The steamers on the Monongahela river were illuminated in a beautiful manner, and to add to the display the lights in the various crafts were reflected in the stream increasing the effect to a remarkable extent, while the bells on the forecastle of each boat kept up a merry tintinnabulation as if echoing the joy of the city back from the waters to the shore. On the lofty brow of the hills surrounding the city, like a great black girdle, the illumination was equally brilliant, the dwellings being one bright glare of light from garret to basement, and perched as they were some five hundred feet above the level of the city, they looked looked like mirages in the sky. What with the lights on thousands of Japanese lanterns, the flash of rockets and other pyrotechnic material and the blaze of six thousand torches, the sky was perfectly red with the display, while the most minute article of decoration could be observed for squares. Among those buildings deserving especial mention is the

COURT HOUSE,

From each window of which hung streamers and Japanese lights, while around the entire yard—attached to the railing—the same ornamentation was observed. Sheriff Stewart deserves credit for his efforts in making the county buildings in keeping with the spirit of the occasion. The immense Smithfield street front of was profusely aglow with the light from at least two hundred Japanese lanterns, while over the balcony the words "Geary and Congress" blazed in gas jets.

THE GAZETTE BUILDING

Made not the least creditable display. The entire front was covered with evergreen and laurels handsomely wrought into wreathes and festoons. From all of the numerous windows flags and Chinese lanterns of chaste designs were hung out, which together with a liberal display of fire works, had a grand effect. Running across the street was an elegantly painted streamer, bearing in large and conspicuous letters the following motto: "The Old Gazette welcomes the brave defenders of our Union." As the different delegations moved past the building cheer upon cheer rolled up for the "Old Gazette." Our neighbor on the fourth story, the German Democrat, run out the names of "Johnson and Clymer," but we out-generaled them in a clever manner, by printing in the same style the words "brave men detest," and lowering the board immediately over the motto put out by our Sweitzers friends, it read thus, "Brave men detest Johnson and Clymer." A truer sentiment could not have been suggested.

THE DISPATCH BUILDING

Was handsomely decorated, and added much to the general appearance of Fifth street. Other buildings were decorated in beautiful style, but our space will not permit us to describe even a few of them.

THE REPUBLIC BUILDING

Was also handsomely decorated, and the display made was truly gratifying to the soldiers, as from this quarter they had anticipated no welcome.

THE ST. CHARLES

was also handsomely illuminated and adorned. A large regulation of flag being festooned over the main doorways, while from each window depended a miniature baloon appropriately inscribed.

THE DUQUESNE ENGINE HOUSE was bedecked with chinese lanterns for the archway over the great door to the top of the stately cupola or belt tower the lights being so arranged as to reveal the proportions of the edifice by long lines of lights even to the cornishing and columns.

ALLEGHENY BANK BLOCK

was resplendent with adornments of all sor lights, which were strung across the street at an elevation of seventy feet from the pavement. The display here was very beautiful.

ALLEGHENY CITY

Vied with our own in brilliancy and decorations—Federal, Ohio, Robinson, Lacock, and Beaver streets being handsomely embellished with flags, evergreens, wreaths of flowers, Chinese lanterns, prismatic lights and fireworks. Never has our sister city looked so beautiful since it became a corporation as it appeared last evening. The display in

BIRMINGHAM

And the contiguous boroughs was not very extensive, owing to the fact that they had poured their populations into the city, thereby adding additional thousands to the great mass of humanity that filled our streets.

THE PROCESSION.

At a little after eight o'clock, the procession got fairly under way and moved off on the route previously announced. With less delay than usually attends the moving of such great bodies, the immense line straightened itself out, and to the music of many bands, lightened by the gleaming of thousands of torches, lanterns and transparencies, cheered by the congregated multitudes, impeded and frequently obliged to halt outright, by the great crowds that utterly choked up every thoroughfare drew its tremendous length through the city.

The column was lead off by the Boys in Blue, of Peebles township, sixty-five strong, and headed by a magnificent band. The delegates were mounted on fine horses, and carried torches. They were followed by the Oakland delegation of Boys in Blue, seventy-five in number, and also mounted and supplied with torches.

These two delegations constituted the escort to the Chief Marshal, Major General Jas. S. Negley and his aids, who rode next, all dressed in full uniform, but without their side arms.

Next followed the First Division proper, of the procession, under command of General A. L. Pearson, who, with his staff rode a little in the rear of the Marshal, and his aids. First in the Division came the Resident and Executive Committee, both National and County, riding in carriages. Following immediately came the delegations from abroad in carriages. There were some fifty carriages altogether, and as those containing the more distinguished persons passed along they were greeted with cheers and the waving of handkerchiefs and hats. Gens. Burnside and Butler were cheered long and repeatedly. One of the carriages contained Private Hendershott, the "Drummer Boy of the Rappahannock," and as he passed along he was saluted with cheers.

Following the carriages rode the delegations of Boys in Blue from Findley and North Fayette, numbering twenty-five altogether, and mounted.

Next rod one hundred and fifty members of the Butchers' Association, mounted on spendid horses, and dressed in their neat uniforms, consisting of white frocks with red sashes over their shoulders. This delegation was a remarkably fine one, and drew out many admiring remarks.

An unique craft followed, being the great row boat "Albatross" of the Undine Boat Club, mounted on wheels, and drawn by four horses. In the boat rode the boat's crew, bearing gay colored lanterns, and firing Roman candles and rockets.

The Second Division, commanded by General F. H. Collier, followed, headed by a fine band. The First Ward Geary Club mounted on horseback and bearing torches and transparencies with appropriate mottoes and devices followed the band. Following them walked a portion of the Wisconsin delegation bearing lanterns and transparencies. After them marched twelve of the Kansas delegation with torches. This delegation bore a transparency inscribed, "Kansas began the war in 1855, and we're going to fight it out."

The Philadelphia delegation followed, making a beautiful display. Marching in front of the delegations, accompanied by the Collis Philadelphia Brass Band came files of men bearing pennons with the corps badges on them. Then came one hundred and fifty delegates bearing lanterns and transparencies.

After these came also on foot one hundred and fifty delegates from New York and New Jersey, bearing torches.

The delegations from Fayette, Beaver and Washington counties came next, marching to the music of a band and carrying torches and some exceedingly appropriate transparencies.

A large delegation from Ohio numbering nearly four hundred, marched next in several subdivisions, each bearing a different style of lanterns torches or transparencies. They made an exceedingly fine display.

The Boys in Blue from the Fourth Ward, Allegheny, rode next, in a wagon belonging to the Empire Feed store. They carried several telling transparencies.

The First Ward Geary Club, numbering about one hundred and fifty men, richly provided with colored lanters and expressive transparencies, came next, most of the delegation marching to the music of a band. Heading the division, however, the mechanics of the First ward rode in a wagon, on which was a heavy platform supporting a large bell from Fulton's foundry. From this bell a triumphant peal constantly rang.

The Tenth ward delegation followed next in a huge wagon drawn by four horses. These delegates carried lanterns and handsome transparencies.

The Third Ward Geary Club, riding in a wagon, followed next, and after them marched the Second Ward Boys in Blue, bearing numerous torches.

The Second Ward Geary Club, one hundred and fifty strong, came next, bearing torches, and after them, in a wagon, rode a portion of the delegation from the First ward, Allegheny.

TEMPERANCEVILLE.

Temperanceville turned out in full force, being largely represented both in the male and female department. First came the Boys in Blue, a portion of them riding on a wagon and bearing various transparencies, and the remainder following on horseback, carrying torches. A beautiful display came next, a large wagon, drawn by six horses and handsomely draped with streamers bearing appropriate mottoes, bore thirty-six beautiful young ladies all in white, and representing the thirty-six States. In the wagon with the ladies were a variety of very fine transparencies. The employees of the Eclipse Glass Works, also of Temperanceville, rode next in the glass works' wagon, and then came another detachment of Temperanceville boys on foot, with torches.

Headed by an excellent band, the West Pittsburgh delegation rode in three large wagons. The delegates had torches and Chinese lanterns, and the wagons were decorated with appropriate transparencies.

The Boys in Blue of the Fourth ward, Pittsburgh, followed on foot.

NINTH WARD.

The patriotism of the Ninth ward showed a strong and large array. Marshalled by mounted officers, the Geary Club and Boys in Blue of the ward rode jointly to the number of three hundred and fifty. First came a large wagon drawn by eight horses. This was followed by a large four horse wagon, and this again preceded by a handsome open carriage, drawn by four horses, each of which was fittingly decorated, and carried transparencies and mottoes almost without number.

A short distance after these were three other four horse wagons, also carrying the Ninth ward delegates.

The Sixth Ward came next, headed by a carriage containing a portion of the delegation. A detachment on foot came next, and the remainder rode behind in three wagons. All carried lanterns or torches, and presented a beautiful appearance.

The Fifth Ward delegation was also divided as to locomotion, a portion riding in two wagons and the remainder on foot, all carrying torches. Marching with the Fifth ward delegation were the members of the Niagara Engine Company, in uniform, and marching in files alternately with those of the Boys in Blue. All carried torches and the effect was very fine. After the delegation came the Niagara hose carriage and steamer very handsomely decorated.

A wagon carrying the Keystone String Band was driven next, and immediately after it came the Seventh ward delegation, carrying a large number of torches and transparencies. Part of the delegation occupied a wagon and the remainder were on foot.

The Eighth Ward delegation of sixty men came next with torches and transparencies. One of the latter bore the inscription: "Boys in Blue, Bull, for you." A four horse wagon carried a portion of the delegation, while the remainder marched behind. The Fire Department came after these.

DUQUESNE.

This Company came next preceded by a band. The members, in uniform, to the number of ninety, drawing their hose carriage, tastefully decorated. The steamer, to which were attached four black horses, shone like polished gold. Each member carried a Chinese lantern.

THE NEPTUNE

Followed, making a very fine turn out of fifty men in black pants, red shirts and white fire hats. They had their beautiful new hose carriage and handsome steamer in the line.

THE STEWART HOOK AND LADDER

came next. There were forty-eight members in line in a very neat uniform, while their ladder trucks were covered with wreathes and red, white and blue bunting. It was drawn by four black horses.

COLUMBIA HOOK AND LADDER

company turned out ninety-two members in uniform. In addition to their ladder truck, which was beautifully decorated, they had a hose carriage, drawn by a mule, in the former of which was seated a boy dressed in the habiliments of a female with his face corked to represent an African.

THE GENERAL GRANT

came next with fifty-one men in line, each of whom had a torch. Their steamer, covered with flowers and flags, was drawn by a team of six white horses. Around the neck of each hung a wreath of laurel.

THE RELIEF,

This company had forty-eight men in line, in a uniform consisting of black pants, red shirts, white belts and fire hats. Their steam and hose carriage were tastefully adorned. This company with the was au fait in every particular, as far as beauty and taste was concerned. They had forty-five men in line, while in their rear marched a juvenile delegation, calling themselves the Hope Jr.

Sheriff John H. Stewart and his staff, Lieut. Babcock, Lieut. Dalzell and Lieut. Alexander Bradley, came next, leading the delegation of Draymen, two hundred in number, all riding powerful horses. The Draymen wore red scarfs over their shoulders as their uniform badge. They presented a truly fine and imposing appearance. Accompanying the delegation was a large wagon surmounted by an an immense transparency, covered with mottoes, and closing the detachment was a member of the association, riding independently in a buggy with his family.

Several wagons carried the Lawrenceville delegation, over one hundred and fifty in number. The Boys in Blue of the beautiful borough made excellent preparations and [illegible] exceedingly creditable appearance [illegible] of the delegation all carrying expressive transparencies.

marched in step with the music of a band. Following the detachment on foot, rode the First ward Geary Club, [illegible] in a wagon. Two other wagons followed, illuminated with transparencies, and carrying members who were letting off fireworks as they rode.

The Fourth ward delegation from Allegheny, armed with lanterns, followed on foot, and the organizations from the second ward of our sister city followed in a body, all carrying brilliant lanterns.

The delegations from the Third and Fourth wards, of Allegheny, followed in wagons, carrying lanterns and transparencies.

A detachment of the Pennsylvania Volunteers, from Allegheny, marched next, keeping step, as of old, to the music of drum and fife.

A large delegation from South Pittsburgh followed on foot and on horseback, carrying variegated lanterns and transparencies.

Birmingham followed with a large force in blue sashes.

Shaler township, Sharpsburg, Collins township, East Liberty and Wilkins township followed in large numbers, bearing a profusion of torches and lanterns, with [illegible] posts and sentiments illustrated by significant mottoes.

Fourteen large wagons bore the delegation from the borough of Manchester. Every manner of device, emblem and motto was inscribed on the transparencies borne in their wagons. The huge delegation was received all along the route with the most marked testimonials.

McKeesport on foot, and McClure township in wagons, closed the procession in a very creditable manner.

AFTER PROCESSION.

We noticed the following inscriptions among the transparencies as they passed: "Congress is our Moses," "The President has damned the Freedmen." Several had written on them, "Traitors must be punished and treason made odious," "All hail the great army of the Republic," "Geary is our Moses." The Manchester delegation bore a banner, on one side of which was written, "Geary and victory," and on the other "Manchester good for one hundred and fifty majority," while on a third was a well executed sketch of Andrew Johnson, with a very wry face, and over the head was inscribed, "Dead Duck." There was such a profusion of mottoes, sentiments and transparencies that we failed to take notice of all, believing we could not do them justice.

After proceeding over the route published the procession dispersed, and a little after midnight all was quiet again. In point of numbers, character and enthusiasm, the turnout was the greatest that has ever taken place here, and during the entire evening not a single circumstance occurred to mar the general good feeling that prevailed everywhere. Viewed from any stand-point the whole affair was a decided success.

Good Taste.—The display made at the wholesale drug house of Messrs. B. L. Fahnestock & Co., Wood street, is worthy of particular notice. A number of exquisite wreaths graced the massive iron front, and appropriate mottoes were distributed at intervals all over the front. Thirty-six finely designed wreaths of evergreen and fine cut roses were linked in one continuous chain, representing the "thirty-six States not over-seer," and stretched across the highway. Mr. Fahnestock's good taste is to be commended.

A Distinguished Visitor.—Among the distinguished visitors who called at our sanctum yesterday, was General Franz Sigel. He looks to be in perfect health, and doubtless is in good condition to go through many more such wars as the one just closed.

ARGUMENT BY MISREPRESENTATION.

A good many democrats just now discourse glibly about the thirty-six stars on the national flag. That precise number of States seems to stand, in their judgment, both for their own justification and the condemnation of the Republicans. To believe in those thirty-six stars they repute the essence of all political orthodoxy, and to disbelieve therein the sublimation of all political heresy.

How long have they so believed? Before the war, for some years, they advocated that peculiar form of State sovereignty which asserted the right of secession and consequently denied the authority of the general government to coerce a State. Then they clearly did not believe in thirty-six stars, unless it accorded with the good pleasure of their southern political associates to have so many. That is why they sympathized so strongly with the rebels; exulted in their successes; and were sad when the Union armies triumphed. That is why Mr. HIESTER CLYMER, as a member of the Pennsylvania Senate, steadily voted against supplying men and money for the prosecution of the war. His obduracy on that point made him, this autumn, the democratic candidate for Governor. If he had voted the other way, the democrats, who are now in the thirty six stars business, would no more vote for him than they would for Mr. THADDEUS STEPHENS.

But this is not all, nor the worst of it. Those democrats who talk so volubly concerning the national flag, and the thirty-six States emblazoned thereon, have recanted, in their secret thoughts and purposes, none of their old and mischievous errors. Their attachment is no stronger now for the Union of all the States than it was five years ago. But they see that the Union has been maintained notwithstanding all their efforts to destroy it. They know, moreover, that the real question at issue in the present canvass does not relate to the complete restoration of the Union, but to the terms on which that restoration shall be accomplished. What they want, since they cannot have disunion, is reconstruction on such a basis as will not only deliver the rebels from all penalties, but enable them to set up their pretensions to political superiority and to lord it over loyal men in a Union they were impotent to destroy.

Nor can it escape observation that Democratic devotion to the whole thirty-six States is so paraded as to convey the insinuation that the Republicans are in favor of a less number, than which nothing can be farther from fact. If any men ever demonstrated fealty to a principle or a measure, the loyal men of the United States who upheld the government and the sacredness of the flag all through the war, are entitled to the pre-eminence. Three hundred thousand of them sealed their devotion with their lives. Three hundred thousand more show their maimed limbs as conclusive evidence of what they have done and suffered. What an insult is it to the veterans now assembled in this city, who represent in their own persons all the memorable battles for the preservation of the Union, to assert that their devotion to the flag was insincere and hypocritical, and that they were not in favor of the cause for which they periled so much. These veterans know why they fought; and they know what they are about now. They won the victory, and do not mean to be cheated out of it. They won it not for a section or a caste, but for all sections and all castes; for this age, and for all ages. They mean that the Union shall stand not simply in name but in substance; that it shall not simply have its representation on the folds of the national ensign, but shall be found in the common experience of all the inhabitants of the land.

The veterans of the war do not stand alone in this determination. The men who sustained them through all the vicissitudes of the war, are still in full sympathy with them. The loyal men of the republic claim the right, conquered on the field of battle, to control its destiny. This they will not forego. Such terms as they feel to be just and essential to the present and permanent welfare of the country they will exact and enforce, and neither sophistries nor threatenings, will ever turn them from their purposes.

MR. EDGAR COWAN.

Soon after this gentleman was honored by the Republicans of Pennsylvania with a seat in the Senate of the United States, he went over to the democrats, and has steadily voted with them, on most, if not all, important divisions. His friends say his course in this particular has been controlled by conscientious convictions. This may be. Conscience plays strange pranks with some men. Torquemada, the monster of the Inquisition, was blameless in private life, and claimed he was dominated by a profound zeal for truth on earth and the welfare of souls on the other side the tomb. His case does not stand alone. Many of the public men whose names stand pillared in special infamy, were in the same category. While Mr. COWAN pleads his conscience in justification of his defection, his conscience should whisper in his ears that he owes something to the men who confided power to his keeping, as their representative, and whose confidence he outrages. When it came to the point that he could not fulfill his honorable pledges, expressed or implied, his conscience, if it had been sound and true, ought to have suggested to him the duty of resigning his office, and allowing the party from which he received it, to select a successor in unison with his sentiments and a sharer of its principles. This holding on to a public trust, while abusing it, may be a model exhibition of conscience under the existing regime at Washington, but it does not take well with men of plain sense, unhacknied in self-deceptions.

Mr. COWAN's period of service runs to its close. The election of his successor by the Legislature will be held on the third Tuesday of next January. Among the things to be accomplished by the approaching election is his remission to the walks of private life, unless the President shall be pleased to continue his public career by an appointment in reward of his infidelity to the Republican party. It is this consideration which makes the selection of the Republican Legislative candidates a matter of grave public importance.

Nor is it simply desirable that Mr. COWAN should have notice to quit the post he prostitutes. It is of the utmost consequence that his successor shall be a man of tried and approved quality, who has not only ability but reliability. Without intending to disparage intellect, will is not unfrequently better than brains. In an emergency such as that which is now upon the nation backbone is of great value; when combined with a high order of mental power its beneficial uses are of uncalculable price. In trying again for a Senator there must be no mistake in the man.

THE Union Soldiers and Sailors of Crawford and adjoining counties have arranged to make a grand demonstration at Meadville on the 2d day of October. It will be an all-day affair. The gallant General HARRIMAN, of New Hampshire, the best stump speaker of New England, and several other eminent veterans, will positively be present and speak. The Administration, through Judge PETTIS, is endeavoring to defeat Mr. FINNEY, the Republican candidate for Congress, by a lavish use of bread and butter. That result cannot be accomplished; but it is well that professed Republicans who are trying to compass it, should be made promptly to comprehend the indignation their conduct inspires in the breast of true men. Swell the meeting.

GEN. B. F. BUTLER, in the boundless and unparalelled enthusiasm his presence inspires among loyal people, has ample compensation for the abuse heaped on him by the President and the supporters of his Policy. There is something unique and surpassing in the welcome extended to him in this city by loyalists from all parts of the country. He has earned his high renown, and wears it with a noble grace.

THE Richmond Whig says "a sense of impending calamity has, within a week, taken possession of the Southern mind." This grows out of the determination of the Northern people not to submit to the dictation of President Johnson in the matter of reconstruction. Well, the South ought to have known better than to trust the false guides who undertook to lead it.

THE New York Times pronounces in favor of the Constitutional Amendment as "important and desirable." This shows which way the wind sets; but in all other respects it is of no consequence which way the Times goes.

—The pretty wife of one George Doremus, of Baltimore, "shadowed" her husband to the house of a very fashionable wanton, in Washington, where she gave him the weight of her parasol to the best of her ability, and informed him that he was wanted in Baltimore—all of which had a magic effect and to Baltimore he went.

—The wives of English ecclesiastical dignitaries do not partake in the sacred titles of their lords. It is rather funny to read in the London papers that the "Archbishop of York and Mrs. Thomson arrived at Fulham Palace yesterday on a visit to the Bishop of London and Mrs. Tait."

FRECKLES.—Some of our fair readers are troubled with Freckles and Moth, and the more delicate the skin the more easily the action of light produces these vexatious deformities. Dr. B. C. PERRY, the well-known Dermatologist, who has made a speciality of Diseases of the Skin and Scalp, and whose office is at 49 Bond street, uses a perfectly harmless, but exceedingly efficacious preparation, "Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion," which, we are told by those who use it, removes these Patches without discoloring or otherwise injuring the texture and appearance of the skin. The fact is worthy of note. Sold by all Druggists.—N. Y. Courier.

TAKE TIME BY THE FORELOCK.—The miasma which generates epidemic fevers is now rising in clouds under the blazing beams of the dog day sun. Every living body, as well as refuse animal and vegetable matter, emits unwholesome vapors, and in crowded cities and dense assemblages which business and pleasure call together the elements of disease are evolved. The pressure upon every vital organ is never so great as in the second and third months of summer, and common sense teaches us that these organs require to be reinforced to meet it.

We hold our lives, so to speak, on a REPAIRING LEASE and this is the season when the process of dilapidation is most rapid and repairs are most required. Therefore BUILD UP, PROP AND SUSTAIN THE POWERS OF NATURE with that mighty vegetable recuperent, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. He who takes it may be said to clothe himself in sanitary mail, against which epidemic disease will hurl its poisoned shafts in vain. This is no gratuitous assertion, but a great MEDICAL FACT, attested by twelve years' experience in every climate of the habitable globe. Extremes of temperature always disturb the functions of the stomach, the bowels the liver and the skin. It is through these that the most dangerous maladies assail us. Tone them in advance with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, and defy heat and malaria. se3

TO THE PUBLIC.

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED, OFFICERS OF THE FREEDMEN AND SOLDIERS' FAIR ASSOCIATION, organized in Pittsburgh, Pa., February 16th, 1866, for the purpose of rendering aid and relief to Freedmen and Sick and Wounded Soldiers, would take this method of informing the public generally of the success of their efforts, and of the disposition made by them of the moneys received.

Under the management of the Association, a Fair was holden in Lafayette Hall, commencing on the morning of January 12th, 1866, and continuing five days. Previous to this, liberal contributions had been made by the citizens of Pittsburgh and elsewhere, and two Concerts had also been given in aid of the Association. From their several sources the sum of $1,291 58 was realized, as follows, viz:

From contributions	$38 68
From the two Concerts	205 70
From sales at the Fair	879 19	—$1,291 58
Deducting the expenses of Fair and Concerts		583 06
Left as the nett proceeds of the enterprise		$ 648 52

Of this sum thus placed at the disposition of the Association, Three Hundred Dollars have been contributed to the relief of freedmen, and Two Hundred and Thirty-Eight Dollars to such sick or wounded soldiers as were brought to its notice. A small amount also has been appropriated to one or two deserving objects of charity.

In consequence of certain misrepresentations and misstatements which have been publicly made, the ladies of the Association have deemed it proper to make this explanation of their affairs at this time, although it was their original intention to withhold it until all the money had been expended. In making it now, they would take occasion to express the wish that those persons who have striven to place them in a false position before the community, may always succeed in their endeavors to perform as honestly and conscientiously the duties devolving upon them. In justice to themselves, too, the ladies feel called upon to take notice of certain charges made against them at the Annual Meeting of the Pennsylvania State Equal Rights League, on the 10th day of August last, and to state that, in contradiction of assertions there made, the Fair referred to in this article was not for the benefit of the Pittsburgh Equal Rights League, but simply and solely for the benefit of the Freedmen and Sick and Wounded Soldiers; and further, that with one or two honorable exceptions, they (the ladies) received no aid or assistance whatever from the gentlemen of the League, but rather opposition, and, in some instances, abuse.

In behalf of the Freedmen and Soldiers Fair Association.

The Great Family Newspaper.

NEW YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE

Is printed on a large double-medium sheet, making eight pages of six broad columns each. It contains all the important Editorials published in THE DAILY TRIBUNE, except those of merely local interest; also Literary and Scientific Intelligence; Reviews of the most interesting and important New Books; the Letters from our large corps of correspondents; the latest news received by Telegraph from Washington and all other parts of the country; a Summary of all important intelligence in this city and elsewhere; a Synopsis of the Proceedings of Congress and the State Legislature when in session; the Foreign News received by every steamer; Exclusive Reports of the Farmers' Club of the American Institute; Talks about Fruit, and other Horticultural and Agricultural information essential to country residents; Stock, Financial, Cattle, Dry Goods and General Market Reports; making it, both for variety and completeness, altogether the most valuable, interesting and instructive WEEKLY NEWSPAPER published in the world.

The Full Reports of the American Institute Farmers' Club, and the various Agricultural Reports, in each number, are richly worth a year's subscription.

EXTRA TRIBUNE
FOR THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN.

A political struggle, rarely surpassed in importance or intensity, has been precipitated on the country by the treachery of Andrew Johnson and some of his official or personal adherents to the great and patriotic party by which they were entrusted with power.

The aim of this treachery is to put the steadfast loyalists of the South under the feet of the "whipped but not subdued" Rebels, and to enable the latter to glut their vengeance on the former, whom they hate and curse as responsible for the most unexpected overthrow of their darling "Confederacy."

The recent wholesale massacre at Memphis and New Orleans, were but conspicuous manifestations of the spirit now rampant in the South, whereof the pro-Rebel triumph in Kentucky is a more recent example. The soldiers of Lee, Beauregard, Johnston and Hood are now the dominant power from the Potomac to the Rio Grande; they elect each other to office in preference even to stay-at-home Rebels; they have supplanted nearly all others as policemen of Southern cities; they are organized and officered as State Militia; and they ruthlessly crush every demonstration of loyal Whites or loyal Blacks in assertion of the EQUAL RIGHTS of AMERICAN FREEMEN. The school-houses of the Blacks are burned and their White teachers subjected to violence and outrage by unchanged Rebels, who relieve the work of murder and arson by cheers for Andy Johnson and execrations of Congress.

The purpose of forcing representatives of the Rebel States into Congress, in defiance of the loyal oath, by Presidential fiat and Military power, is openly avowed, with threats that those who resist it shall be treated as rebels, and a civil war thus kindled throughout the North and West.

It has thus become imperative that those who stand for LIBERTY and LOYALTY—for the right of the UNION to exist and of MAN to be FREE—that the glorious CIVIL RIGHTS ACT can never be repealed—that the rights of the humblest AMERICAN are henceforth guaranteed and shielded by the FEDERAL CONSTITUTION and must be maintained against all gainsayers—that the days wherein BLACKS had no rights which WHITES were bound to respect have passed away forever.

We hold to-day the power in all the FREE STATES of 1860, in WEST VIRGINIA and in MISSOURI. We must hold these in our ensuing elections, and add to them MARYLAND and DELAWARE—the former lost to us through treachery, otherwise Johnsonism. We must elect to the XLth Congress an overwhelming majority devoted to Loyalty, Nationality, and the inalienable Rights of Men.

To this end, let Light and Truth be systematically diffused to every neighborhood, every fireside, throughout our broad country.

To this end, we propose an extra issue of THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE (identical in size and contents with the regular edition,) which we will supply on the following terms, the paper to be sent and subscriptions to commence on receipt of the money:

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

Insurrection at Benham, Texas—Gen. Sheridan Gone to the Scene of Action.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—A Tribune's New Orleans special says: The Tyler, Arkansas papers, of the 12th inst. say that a detachment of United States troops, under command of Capt. Tuffer, were fired into by an Arkansian, who was not aware the war was over.

Official information received from Benham, Texas, allows that place to be in a state of insurrection. The citizens are all armed and patrol the streets to prevent the soldiers from coming into town.

The Mayor or Sheriff is reported to have telegraphed to the Adjutant General of the State to know how many men he could furnish to drive the Yankees off. A reply is said to have been received offering five hundred well armed men, and more if necessary.

The officer in command [illegible] detachment of United States troops, numbering about sixty men, had entrenched and otherwise fortified his position after receiving a large supply of ammunition from Galveston. He expressed confidence in being able to withstand an attack. General Sheridan left for the scene of action this morning.

Governor Wells is sick with fever and ague. He denies the statement that he endorses the President's policy.

Fenians Assembling for Invasion.

NEW YORK, September 25.—A Herald Ottawa dispatch says: Cabinet meetings of the Canadian Government are being held daily in Quebec, the subjects discussed being the military condition of the provinces, the confederation, and the failure of the Bank of Upper Canada. Much insecurity is felt in financial circles. Money is still demanding fifteen cents in Montreal.

The Fenians are said to be assembling for invasion at High Gate, near Rouse's Point. Large quantities of military stores were being received at Toronto and Montreal, and being sent to the western portion of the province.

Fall of a Building—Eight Persons Buried in the Ruins.

NEW YORK, September 25.—The Herald's Milwaukee special says: A portion of the walls of the buildings in Richard's block fell this morning and buried eight persons in the ruins. Two were instantly killed, and the others are so much injured that their recovery is hopeless.

The Trial of Jeff. Davis.

NEW YORK, September 25.—A Tribune's special says: It is now defiantly stated that Jeff. Davis will not be tried the coming October. Chief Justice Chase announces himself in readiness to call a special session of the Court and proceed with the trial of Davis.

Death of Hon. Henry May.

BALTIMORE, September 25.—Hon. Henry May, formerly Representative in Congress from the Third District in Maryland, died this morning at 8 o'clock. He was the immediate predecessor of the late Henry Winter Davis.

Oil Refinery Destroyed by Fire.

NEW YORK, September 25.—Kelly's Kerosene Oil works, at Hunter's Point, Long Island, took fire last night about half-past ten o'clock, from the explosion of a vat, and a disastrous conflagration ensued.

They can be used without detection, and never fail to effect a cure, if used according to instructions.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS,

Price one dollar per box, or six boxes for five dollars; also, large boxes, containing four small. Price three dollars.

From four to six boxes are generally required to cure ordinary cases of Seminal Weakness and Emissions, though benefit is derived from using a single box.

In Chronic Cases, and particularly when Impotence or Genital Debility with Nervous Prostration has affected the system,

BELL'S TONIC PILLS

Are recommended as the most efficacious rejuvenating and invigorating remedy in the world.

A package, price five dollars, will last a month, and is generally sufficient.

In extreme cases of Debility and Impotence,

Bell's External Remedy,

Price two dollars, sufficient for a month, can be used to good advantage.

It gives strength to the organs, and with the Pills will restore them to their normal condition.

CAUTION.—The above Remedies have now been before the public many years, and their great success in the alleviation of human misery, has excited the cupidity of several parties, who use the name "Specific Pills," copy my labels, circulars and advertisements, sometimes word for word, and put up worthless compounds that disappoint the just expectations of the purchaser.

If you cannot purchase Bell's Specific Remedies of your Druggist, take no other, but send the money direct to

☞ TO LADIES.—If you require a reliable remedy to restore you and remove irregularities or obstructions, WHY NOT USE THE BEST. Every lady knows the slightest irregularity of nature is likely to bring on Headache, Giddiness, Low Spirits, Fainting, Hysterics, &c., then the bloom of health fades, the appetite fails, and other symptoms more distressing commence, as Weakness, Spinal Complaint, the Whites, Prolapsus, &c., &c. A NEVER-FAILING REMEDY will be found in DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS. The experience of 30 years has proved they have no equal for removing obstructions and irregularities, no matter from what cause they arise. They are safe and sure in every case. Upwards of 50,000 boxes are sold annually, and no complaint of their efficacy is ever heard, for they accomplish what they are represented to do. Sold in boxes containing sixty pills. Price one dollar.

DR. HARVEY'S GOLDEN PILLS is a remedy four degrees stronger than the above, and intended for special cases of long standing. Price five dollars per box.

If you cannot purchase the Pills at your Druggist, they will be sent by mail, post paid, secure from observation, on receipt of the money, by Dr. JAMES BRYAN, Consulting Physician, No. 819 Broadway, New York.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

LOCAL NEWS ON FIRST AND THIRD PAGES.

The Fifth Day of the Agricultural Fair—Extra Inducements—The Track in First Rate Order.

Yesterday was a fine day for the Fair, and a great many persons took advantage of it to witness the different articles on exhibition. The Fair continues through this day, and should the weather continue fine, the display may be expected to exceed anything in magnificence that has yet been shown. The races that should have came off, especially those between the shetlans and the bull, will come off this afternoon. The dogs of the St Gotard breed will be on exhibition, together with the shetlans and bull. The trotting between five horses will come off to-day as the track is in fine condition. There will be many fine additions to the stock on hand.

The Committee of Arrangements met yesterday afternoon and after passing a vote of thanks to the different members of the press who have extended favors to the Fair, made a special notice of the Gazette and the reporter thereof, Mr. A. O. McGrew. We feel highly flattered by this notice of kindly consideration, but would say we have done no more than our duty both to our paper and the Fair. We have wished it a success, and had it not been for the weather we should have had it. To-day is the last day, and we hope the Fair grounds may be crowded.

We continue our notices of the Fair, although the Convention is the all-absorbing topic.

J. F. KEELER'S SCALES.

We have before referred to the scales built by Mr. J. F. Keeler, but we have committed an error in saying that it was simply a railroad scale. The first premium was awarded Mr. Keeler for the best hay and stock scales, and for the weighing of everything that is carried in wagons. Mr. Keeler has also a scale on exhibition called a furnace and stock scale. Mr. Keeler also manufactures scales for weighing all other articles, and railroad scales are not his specialty. His office and ware rooms are at 38 Wood street, and not as we before stated at 159 Second street. Those who desire an extra scale will do well to examine that of Mr. Keeler's, on the ground. He will be there to explain the entire working of his scales and will give any information that is required.

PAINTINGS.

We do not wish to appear invidious, but we must once more [illegible] the collection of our friend R. M. Cargo, of 69 Fifth street. His paintings of children are really elegant, and we do not think that anything could be added to his stock to make it what it is, par excellence, one of the finest ever on exhibition. Mr. Cargo has hanging up in his gallery portraits of every distinguished man in our land. He has these pictures ready to duplicate at any moment, and will furnish the friends of all parties with a life-sized picture done in the highest style of art, at the shortest notice. Mr. Cargo's galleries are too well known, and have been too often patronized to need more than a passing notice at our hands. We leave him to the tender mercies of a discriminating public.

FANCY SHOW CASES, PICTURES, &c.

There is on exhibition at the Fair grounds a magnificent show case, manufactured of the best French plate glass, and silver plated moulding made by Mr. G. F. Young & Son, No. 478 Penn street. These gentlemen are making a very superior article of show cases of all kinds, both of the best glass and anything that may be ordered. As long as we have native artists of our own we need not send abroad for articles we may want. Messrs. Young also manufacture a very superior article of pier glasses, window hangings, picture frames and other articles which we invite our friends to examine. Remember their place of business at No. 478 Penn street, and we recommend our friends to give them a call.

The Fair will be continued through the day. This afternoon there will be a ball or hop, or whatever else you might call it, at the dining rooms occupied by Messrs. Ludwig & Wiggins, which, together with the races will wind up the Fair.

Bank Messenger Robbed.

NEW YORK, September 25.—Moses Cummings, messenger of the Merchants' Broadway Bank, was robbed in Wall street, to-day, of over $4,000, by a young man named Jos. A. Clinton. The thief was pursued and captured, and the money recovered.

Fenians Concentrating.

OGDENSBURG, September 25.—It is reported upon good authority that a large number of Fenians are concentrating in Northern Vermont for a raid upon Canada. Considerable excitement exists in those counties which border on the Canadian line.

Lost, on Thursday afternoon, September 20th, a Ladies fine enameled Hunting Case Gold Watch somewhere between St. Charles Hotel and Oakland Park via Pennsylvania Avenue, returning via Seventh street road and Wylie street. FINANCE AND TRADE.

TUESDAY, September 25, 1866.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 144¼@144¾; 1881's, 111⅜; Five Twenties, old, 111⅜; Five Twenties, new, 108½; Ten Forties, 98⅞; Seven Thirties, large, 105⅞; Seven Thirties, small, 105⅞; Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad, 87; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad 106½; Erie, Railroad, 73⅞; Western Union Telegraph, Company, 57; Chicago & Rock Island, 111¾; Chicago & North Western, 35½; do preferred, 68⅞; Michigan Southern R. R., 84¾.

Gold was a shade higher in New York to-day, and is reported somewhat firmer. Government bonds are without material change. In our local stock market there is but little doing. Allegheny County Compromise bonds are in demand at 76½, and Allegheny City bonds are wanted at 71.

—The advices just to hand from the other side are quite favorable to our securities, which continue in steady demand. One writer says: "Specie is now being shipped from England, France and Germany to New York, to be invested in United States bonds."

—A rumor is current in Washington that Secretary McCulloch has consented to add to the relief of the gold market to the extent of anticipating the November dividend on the Five Twenty bonds, making the same payable one month in advance, or say on the 1st proximo, though it is hardly probable that he will do anything of the kind. These reports are always more or less current previous to the payment of interest upon the different classes of the public debt. In accordance with the public announcement, the Secretary of the Treasury will commence the redemption of clearing-house certificates on Tuesday, the 25th inst.

—There is said to be a semi-panic at Montreal in consequence of the suspension of the Bank of Upper Canada—an institution which has been looked upon as tottering for some weeks past. There is no doubt but that the revolution now going forward in Canadian finances contributed to its downfall. It is, however, stated that the depositors are secured, and that confidence in the other banks of Canada is unimpaired. The immediate cause of the failure is traceable to the new system of clearing adopted by the Montreal banks, which abolished a credit upon which some of the banks had evidently depended. The Bank of Montreal, the largest bank in Canada, simultaneously contracted and called in its loans. This it is understood to have done for the purpose of precipitating a crisis and forcing the Government to adopt certain measures which would be likely to result in great benefit to itself.

—The fact of the Bank of England rate of discount being five per cent is favorable to high prices for securities of all kinds, but as there is a heavy amount of 5-20s held off the London market in anticipation of a further advance, it is probable that the supply will be in excess of the demand for some time to come.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, September 25, 1866.

There was but very little business transacted in this city to-day, aside from that connected directly or indirectly with the convention, and, as a matter of course, we have but very few transactions to report.

GRAIN—Wheat is firm, with sales of No. 1 Spring at $2,40 to $2,45. Oats firm and unchanged; sale of 1 car load at 44; sales from store at 46@48. Barley is in demand, and there is but little offering; may be quoted at $1,05 to $1,10. Corn is firm, and a shade higher; sales reported on track, and in elevator, at 80 to 82, and from store at 85 to 90. Sale of 50 bush Rye at 90.

FLOUR—There was an improvement in the arrivals to-day, but the demand still keeps pace with the supply, and the market is firm, and prices are well sustained. We continue to quote at $11½ to $12½ for Spring, and $13 to $14 for Winter Wheat brands. Small sales at $5,50 to $5,75 for Rye Flour, and $1,50 for Cornmeal.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and prices are well sustained; we quote at 17¼ to 17½ for Shoulders; 19½ to 20 for Ribbed Sides, and 25 to 26 for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is dull and nominal at 20 to 20½ for prime kettle. Mess Pork firm at $34 @ $35.

BUTTER—There is a continued good demand for prime Roll Butter, and we can report regular sales at 33 to 35. Packed is selling at 25 to 30.

EGGS—Coming in more freely, but the demand is fully equal to the supply, may be quoted firm at 23 to 24.

CHEESE—Is firm but unchanged, sales at 16 to 17 for Western Reserve; 17 to 18 for Hamburg and 20 to 21 for Goshen.

SEEDS—Timothy Seed is in good supply and very dull; small sales at $3½. Flaxseed is wanted at $2¾—sales from store at $2½. No movement in Clover.

APPLES—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and the market is dull and unchanged at $1 to $1,50 per bbl.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, Sept. 25, 1866.

CRUDE—There is a continued fair demand for Crude, and while the market is firm, prices are without quotable change—11 in bulk, and 15, packages included. Sales in lots of some four thousand barrels at 11; and 1000 barrels Smith's Ferry at 11½. The amount of oil thrown upon the market by the recent rise is not as large as had been generally expected, and the consequence is that refiners are buying pretty freely at yesterday's quotations, and holders are unwilling to make any concessions in order to effect sales. It is true, the arrivals have been large, and will be large for a day or two to come, but we are of the opinion that one hundred thousand barrels will cover all that will arrive on the recent freshet; and this, we may remark, is from fifty to one hundred thousand barrels below the predictions of some of those who are usually pretty well posted, and who are not disposed to exaggerate.

REFINED—There was rather more inquiry for bonded oil to-day, and while the transactions in the aggregate, were unusually large, there is no improvement in prices, nor is such an event likely to occur at present. We can report 1000 bbls at 36, free on board cars here; 500 for same delivery, at same price; 1000 for immediate delivery in Philadelphia, at 42; 500 do for same delivery, at same price, and we are cognizant of a negotiation pending for 500 for November, at 42½. Free oil is dull, and prices are entirely nominal.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals were reported to-day:

John Davis	7000	Fisher & Bro	4310

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, Sept. 25, 1866.

CATTLE.

The arrivals of cattle were again large this week, over twelve hundred head being in the pens for sale on Monday morning, but with a very fair demand, the yards were pretty well cleared before evening, and but very few were left over in first hands. The market was not, however, a very good one for drovers, as, in consequence of the large number on sale, it was found necessary to make concessions. Prime retailing cattle ruled a fraction lower—the first time for some weeks—and medium and common grades, of which there was an over supply, moved very slowly and we have no doubt holders of this particular class of stock suffered severely financially. The butchers bought with more than usual freedom this week, which was owing to the fact that they were able to purchase good cattle at a decline, and there was also a very fair demand for shipment—at low figures. We quote prime retailing cattle at 8¼ to 8½; medium at 7 to 7½; fair, 6 to 6½, and inferior at 5 to 6¼.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

There was a very fair supply of Sheep on sale on Monday, but the demand was about equal to the offerings, and, while the market ruled steady and fairly active, prices, compared with last week, have undergone no change. We quote prime fat mutton sheep at 6 to 6½, gross, in a retail way, and fair ditto at 5 to 5½. Lambs quiet and unchanged; sales reported all the way from $1 to $4 per head, according to quality, size, etc., etc.

SWINE.

Market quiet and unchanged. The demand at these yards is restricted entirely to supplying the wants of the butchers, and, in a retail way, we quote at $10,50 to $11,50, gross, for fair to prime heavy averages.

REPORTED SALES OF CATTLE.

Myers & Needy sold Barney Gray 68 head of prime Ohio steers, averaging 1250, at 8¼; 28 head of stock cattle to Shamberg, averaging 750, at 5¼; retailed 47 head at 6¼ to 8.

Greenwald & Kahn sold B. Grey 30 head of extra Ohio steers, averaging above 1425, at 8,40, retailed 38 head at 6¾@8¼. Carr & McAllister retailed 110 head at 6 to 8. Merrick & Doud, 78 head at 6 to 8. Verner & Co. 52 head at 5¾ to 7¼. Jas. Morgan, 17 head at 7 to 8¼.

A. L. Waring sold to Kraus & Haas 22 head, averaging 900, at 6¼; Hersh sold to same buyers 48 head, averaging 925, at 6,40. Fowler & Emill retailed 22 head at 7¼ to 8¼, and wholesaled 15 head of extra steers at $107 per head. Good & Kurtz to Marks & Traurman 51 head, averaging 1025, at 6¾.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede rapidly at this point, with eight feet in the channel, by the pier marks last evening. The weather continues cloudy and sulky with indications of rain.

The arrivals include the Grey Eagle, from Parkersburg; New State, from Wheeling; Pine Grove, from Beaver; and the Peerless, from Oil City. The two first named boats were very handsomely decorated, and brought up several delegations to the Convention, as did also the Pine Grove. The Eagle will leave on her return trip to-morrow evening.

The Argosy No. 2 left for Cincinnati last evening with a very fair trip, including a fair number of passengers.

As will be seen by reference to card, the Quick-Step, Capt. Donaldson's new sidewheeler, is announced as a regular Pittsburgh and Cincinnati packet, leaving here every Saturday at noon, and passengers and shippers should bear this fact in mind. Sam Barr, Jr., has charge of the office.

The Importer, Capt. Noss, and the Ezra Porter, Capt. Porter, both tip-top boats, are announced for New Orleans forthwith.

The Belle Vernon, Capt. Darragh, is filling up rapidly for St. Louis, and will soon be ready to take her departure. This is a bran new boat, and she is admirably adapted for the Pittsburgh and St. Louis trade. Mr Wm. Blackstock is the clerk.

The R C Gray, from Cincinnati, may be expected in to-night, and the Glasgow and Bertha, are the next boats due. The Yorktown and Kate Putnam were expected to arrive at St. Louis on Saturday last.

The Louisville Democrat is responsible for the following:

A PILOT BLOWN SKY HIGH.—When the boilers of the Allena May exploded, the pilot was blown five hundred feet into the air, and alighting head down in the river descended to the bottom kerchug. He came up all right, however, and is ready for another blow up. The next time he "starts in that direction" he'd better keep on, for he'll never get as good a chance to go to heaven again soon. When Charley Dufour was blown up on the Lytle he got about "half way" when he thought of meeting Brownlow and "turned back."

We clip the following items from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Monday:

A fleet of coal boats arrived from Pittsburgh, yesterday. A number of tugs passed on for lower ports with tows of coal. A decline in the price of coal may reasonably be anticipated. ......The new company comprising the Big Sandy and Pomeroy packets, is styled "The Cincinnati, Ironton, Big Sandy, Gallipolis and Pomeroy Packet Company," including the large and elegant steamers Fleetwood, St. James and Telegraph. The Fleetwood, Captain Holloway, will leave on Wednesday evening on her first trip in the Pomeroy trade, in place of the St. James ...... Captain W R. Hoel, Capt. John Sebastian and Capt. John Scott left for Pittsburgh in last night's train, being delegates to the Soldiers and Sailors' Convention in that city. Captain Hoel, it will be remembered, was the officer who volunteered and run the blockade at Island No. 10 with the gunboat Carondelet, thus enabling our forces to capture that important point. Captain Sebastian lost an arm while piloting the wooden gunboat Tyler in her famous conflict with the rebel ram Arkansas, in the Yazoo river. Capt. H. A. Glassford, who was also distinguished in the Mississippi Flotilla, under Admirals Foote, Davis, Porter and Farragut, is also a delegate to the same Convention ......Capt. P. K. Barclay arrived from Marietta, yesterday. We hope soon to find this veteran commander and thorough boatman "swinging around the circle" on the hurricane deck of one of our first-class steamers ...... The Lotus No. 2 will positively depart for New Orleans this evening. Captain Shedden intends placing the steamer in the New Orleans and Red river trade.

FLUID EXTRACT

SARSAPARILLA,

COMBINED WITH

Iodide of Lime,

PREPARED FOR

G. W. PETTES, BOSTON,

BY

James R. Nichols & Co.,

MANUFACTURING CHEMISTS,

MANUFACTURERS OF THE

ELIXIR PERUVIAN BARK

WITH

Protoxide of Iron,

Which has become so favorably known as a

Tonic and Restorative,

by Physicians and Families in all parts of the country

The new preparation, SARSAPARILLA IN A COMBINATION WITH IODIDE OF LIME, presents one of the most prompt alterative agents in a form capable of exerting full action upon the system, and this in minute and pleasant doses. It is conceded that the alterative, resolvent, or tonic effects of Iodine, are exerted most decidedly when associated with other alteratives, in combination, and the Sarsaparilla seems to fulfil perfectly all the favorable requisitions.

The first effect usually observed when SARSAPARILLA WITH IODIDE OF LIME is taken, is an increase of appetite, showing that it has tonic properties of a marked character. Its alterative effects are manifest in its ready combination with the blood and tissues. Pale, scrofulous women and children improve rapidly under its use, and the vital functions assume a healthy condition.

It is admirably adapted to a large number of chronic or acute affections peculiar to children. It is suited to them, both by the mildness and efficiency of Medicinal effect and the pleasant, attractive form of the remedy. It may be given for a long period where constitutional influences are desired, and no repugnance, or disinclination to take the syrup, encountered. In White Swellings, Hip-Joint Disease, and Distortions of the Spine, it should be given persistently, in moderate doses, until relief is obtained.

In the Spring of the Year, and during the Warm Weather,

The accumulation of morbid matters in the system seems to become manifest and very troublesome. Lassitude, Headache, Boils, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Pains in the Joints, Indigestion, etc., are very common. Nothing ever devised is better adapted to exterminate or drive off these affections than this new combination of SARSAPARILLA WITH IODIDE OF LIME.

No preparation like it, or which approximates to it as an

has ever before been placed within the reach of invalids. Indeed, it is an entirely NEW and SCIENTIFIC combination in no respect resembling anything hitherto employed.

The opinion of medical men concerning it, the description of its chemical character, therapeutic value, manner of use, etc., are given in a circular, which can be had at the store of any and all first-class Druggists.

FORTY YEARS PRACTICE IN SEXUAL DISEASES Gives me a knowledge seldom acquired by Physicians. My long residence in this city, and the amount of patients treated annually by me, are sufficient proof of my success. SPERMATORRHEA, or Sexual Weakness, and all diseases arising therefrom, are cured in a much shorter time than heretofore by my NEW VEGETABLE REMEDIES. Medicines sent to any part of the Union. All letters must contain a stamp to pay return postage. Correspondence held sacred. Office, 98 SMITHFIELD STREET, near Diamond. Address, J. W. BRANSTRUP, M. D., fa18:1v Box 990, Pittsburgh, Pa.
